Search

Platform admin search

Use search when you want to jump quickly between institutes, people, exams, reports, and security routes.

Common workflows

Review a new institute

1. Open Institutes.
2. Open the institute record you want to inspect.
3. Check identity, status, and readiness details.
4. Move to People or Academic Setup if you need follow-up work.

Inspect platform readiness

1. Open Dashboard.
2. Review the high-priority cards.
3. Open Reports for trend and backlog review.

4. Open Security if you need live-risk or watch-state checks.

Support economy or access issues

1. Open Economy.
2. Check the overview lane first.
3. Open support or question-bank access lanes when you need targeted diagnostics.

Helpful notes

- Platform admin is cross-institute by design.
- The top bar search is the fastest way to move between admin surfaces.
- The workspace uses the same shell pattern as the other roles, but the actions are wider in scope.

Package Management

Create and edit question-bank packages and scope coverage

Define what the package is, who owns it, how it is delivered, and which academic slices it actually covers.

OPERATOR SHORTCUT

A package only defines what content is included. Institutes still need an active access row and, when applicable, an active shared-library switch before licensed questions become usable.

Practical sequence: choose package identity, define coverage rows clearly, save, then verify institute access and shared-library switch status in the visibility lane.

RECOMMENDED OPERATOR APPROACH

Start with the narrowest commercial promise you can explain easily. In most real sales cases, that means one subject row per sellable subject instead of one broad "everything" row.

Good default: create clear subject rows for Math, Science, Social Science, or Computer first. Add topic limits only when a package is meant to be smaller than the full subject.

WHAT AN OPERATOR SHOULD CONFIRM BEFORE SAVING

1. The package promise is narrow enough to explain. 2. Every sellable subject has its own active row. 3. The institute-facing outcome below matches what sales and support expect to unlock.

Quick rule: if you want both Math and Science, keep one active Math row and one active Science row. One subject row never automatically covers the other subject.

What still needs dedicated contracts before it becomes configurable here

Dedicated platform settings for security, reports, audit, institute management, and broader economy governance should only be added when the backend contracts and operational rules are ready. This page should not fake persistence just to look complete.
