Routes Covered

- `/app/exams`
- `/app/exams/[examId]`
- `/app/attempts`
- `/app/attempts/[attemptId]`

What to expect

Student flow

Open rules before starting so attempts left, review policy, and visibility are clear.

Resume always takes priority over starting fresh when the backend already has a live attempt.

After submission, summary, result visibility, and answer review still depend on backend lifecycle rules.

If a mock test is premium, the screen will show whether stars can unlock it immediately or whether another access rule is in place.

Start Practice

After each attempt

Attempt follow-up is not one-size-fits-all. Some next steps start immediately, some open review flows, and some premium practice sets may first need stars before you continue. Post-submit states always move in order: submitted, evaluation pending, result published, then review available when policy allows.

Attempt Continuity Loop

Summary before retry

Attempts history should tell the student whether to resume, inspect a summary, open results, or move into the next practice lane.

This workspace is the bridge between in-progress work and post-submit learning, so the next action should stay explicit instead of hidden in timestamps.

DO THIS FIRST

Open the latest submitted summary to confirm what is released and what still depends on evaluation or review policy.

THEN NEXT

Use results or answer review to confirm the mistake pattern before restarting practice.

AFTER THAT

Return to practice or another mock only after the previous attempt has produced a clear follow-up action.

Open Results

Open Practice

Release Order

Student-visible flow

In-progress attempts should usually be resumed, not abandoned for a new lane.

Submitted attempts unlock summary first. Results and answer review may arrive later depending on release policy.

Practice follow-up is strongest after summary or review confirms what needs correction.

- timer and security rules
- start or resume actions

Attempt Workspace

The attempt workspace is where students:

- answer questions
- save progress
- move across sections
- review timer pressure
- submit the attempt

Summary And Review

After submit, the student can usually:

- inspect the attempt summary
- review answers if the exam allows it
- move back into practice or analytics

Common Tasks

Start An Attempt

1. Open the exams list.
2. Open the exam detail page.
3. Review the timer and access rules.
4. Click Start or Resume when the action is available.

Save Work

1. Answer a question.
2. Click Save Answer.
3. Confirm the page shows that the answer was stored.

Switch Sections

1. Open the section switcher or section navigation.
2. Move to the next section.
3. Confirm the question and timer context still look correct.

Submit The Attempt

1. Review the visible questions.
2. Confirm the answers you want to keep.
3. Click Submit Test.
4. Read the confirmation carefully before final submit.

Open Summary Or Review

1. Open the attempts list.

2. Find the completed attempt.
3. Open summary first.
4. Open review only if the result state allows it.

Common Mistakes

- starting the exam without checking the timer
- assuming the attempt auto-saves every navigation step
- leaving the page while expecting unsaved work to persist
- trying to open review before publication or review availability exists

Troubleshooting

No start button appears

Check whether:

- the exam window is closed
- the attempt is already in progress
- the exam needs an access key or additional entitlement

Save fails

Check whether:

- the network is offline
- the browser session expired
- the question type requires special input or attachments

The page looks locked

That can mean:

- the exam has ended
- the attempt is already submitted
- the attempt is in a secured state that does not allow editing
